

Gandhian Nipponzan Myohoji, Tamil Nadu and Gandhi Memorial Museum, Madurai jointly organized a Peace Walk for propagating the message of peace and non-violence from Kanyakumari to Madurai. Participated by dedicated Peace Walkers from Japan, Nepal and different cities of India including Darjeeling, Bangalore, Madurai, Thirnelveli and Gandhigram this Peace Walk began on September 15, 2023 to reach Madurai on October 2, 2023. It began with the pronouncement of the mantra "NA MU MYO HO REN GE KYO" in Japanese language which means "Peace for the World - I bow to the divine nature of all living beings".

Organized as part of 154th Gandhi's Birthday celebration programme this walk started from the Gandhi Mandapam located in Kanyakumari, the place of confluence of the three oceans – Bay of Bengal, Arabian Sea and Indian Ocean. On September 23 the peace walkers visited the World Peace Tower at Sankaran Kovil, unveiled the statue of Mahatma Gandhi and set the foundation stone for the Fuji Guruji - Gandhiji Exhibition. The walk was concluded on October 2, 2023 at the Gandhi Memorial Museum, Madurai. During the 293 km long pathway the walkers met a large number of common people living along the road side, functionaries of religious institutions and several well wishers of Gandhi and Gandhian thought. Reverend Istani Buddha Bhikkshu too joined the peace walk at the age of 84 which was truly encouraging for all.

Prof. L. Raja, President, Indian Adult Education Association, New Delhi along with Shri C. Seerangan, Ph.D Scholar, Gandhigram Rural Institute, Deemed to be University also accompanied the peace walkers for two days towards its conclusion. The walk instilled a lot of enthusiasm among the participants and captured memorable episodes. A student named Bose pursuing his school education (7th standard) when asked the motto behind his participation, he said, "I wish the whole world to live in peace and without having any war and violence".

Delivering the inaugural address Dr. Tamilisai Soundararajan said, "I am here just because of the blessings of Amma and it is certainly a historic moment in my life". While quoting a few memorable anecdotes from her own life she requested the academic fraternity to read the NEP 2020 document under the light of our collective desire to realize the cherished goal of becoming a developed nation by the year 2047 when India will be celebrating the centenary year of its independence. It's the duty of the teachers today to understand the tone of the future students who dream to become self-reliant and desire to dominate the world scenario, she said. Emphasizing the linguistic approach Dr. Soundararajan reiterated the need of providing education in the mother tongue and said that the provisions of NEP 2020 need to be implemented in its totality and with full vigour in order to enable our students to acquire skills and excellence at par. Applauding Prime Minister's approach to provide opportunities to the students coming from the disadvantaged sections of society, Dr. Soundararajan said that they also have the ability to excel which needs to be realized for achieving the SDG goals.

Speaking on the occasion Shri K.C. Choudhary highlighted some of the major turning points in the evolution of adult and lifelong education as an independent discipline of study in the country and traced, in brief, the history of All India Adult Education Conferences being organized under the aegis of IAEA so far. The first All India Adult Education Conference was organized in Bhagalpur, Bihar which led to the birth of the Indian Adult Education Association in 1938, he said. He requested the scholars attending the conference to utilize the opportunity for expanding horizons of the subject and enrich the movement for empowering the people.

Addressing the delegates and members of academic fraternity assembled on the occasion Dr. Bhavani Rao explained in details the five pivotal concepts of Amma's vision of education and the way students can live a life upto their own expectation while contributing their best for the development of the nation. Quoting the words of Her Holiness Mata Amritanandamayi 'Amma', Dr. Rao said that 'life' and 'leaving' are not the same. We all are endowed with immense energy and ability however; very often we fail to realize the same. She requested the students to read and imbibe the basic concepts of Amma's vision for their holistic development.

Dr. Kezovino Aram said that the All India Adult Education Conferences can be treated as 'moving conferences' which have played a vital role in popularizing the concept of adult education and motivating people

Keynote Address on "Socially Responsible Higher Education in India: Integrating Lifelong Learning for All"

Delivering the keynote address in hybrid mode Dr. Rajesh Tandon, Founder President of PRIA & Co-Chair, UNESCO Chair in Community Based Research and Social Responsibility in Higher Education, underlined the redefining missions of higher education and desired that in the changing world scenario higher education should move from teaching to enabling learning, from research to knowledge production and mobilization and from extension to engaged partnership. He said that the current National Education Policy Framework should be flexible, multi-disciplinary and targeted towards developing socially responsible global citizenship where competencies for work should be the key word.

to join their hands for the successful implementation of AE programmes in the country. She categorically put forth a global vision of lifelong learning and requested all to utilize NEP 2020 for furthering the same in our own context.

The Vote of Thanks in the Inaugural Session was extended by Prof. L. Raja who whole heartedly thanked Amma for showering her blessings to the cause of the promotion of adult and lifelong learning in the country. He also expressed his gratitude towards each and everybody present on the occasion for making the 64th AIAEC a great success.

Shri Suresh Khandelwal, General Secretary, IAEA was also on the dais who along with Smt. Kalpana Kaushik, Director, IAEA honoured the dignitaries on the dais with Shawl.

The session was presided over by Prof. N. K. Ambasht, Visitor, International Institute of Adult Education, New Delhi & Former Chairman, National Institute of Open Schooling (NIOS) while Dr. R. Venkata Ravi extended the Vote of Thanks. Dr. Tandon was introduced by Smt. Kalpana Kaushik.

29th Zakir Husain Memorial Lecture delivered by Prof. K. Ramachandran

The 29th Zakir Husain Memorial Lecture was delivered by none but Prof. K. Ramachandran, a key member involved in the drafting of the National Education Policy 2020. It was interesting to note that Prof. Ramachandran happens to be the only member in the Drafting Committee of NEP 2020 who was also a key functionary in the Drafting Committee of the previous New Education Policy 1986. He happens to be the Advisor, Africa-India Institute of Educational Planning & Administration & Chairman of the Focus Group on Adult Education (NEP, 2020), National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (NIEPA).

Delivering the 29th Zakir Husain Memorial Lecture on "Transformative Initiatives in Higher Education" Prof. Ramachandran recalled those three occasions – Convocation Address, the University of Mumbai (earlier known as University of Bombay), 1967; Osmania University, Hyderabad in 1968 and in later years in Annamalai University when he witnessed Dr. Zakir Husain, the then President of India delivering lectures on the vision and mission of higher education in India. Prof. Ramachandran said that transformation of education system, qualitative improvement and controlled growth were the three key ideas on which Dr. Zakir Husain always used to emphasize. Today when we are looking ahead to realize the cherished goal of becoming a developed nation by the year 2047 as pronounced by the Prime Minister of India, we must know that we are moving ahead in continuity of what Dr. Zakir Husain used to think for the future of Indian Education System. To him qualitative improvement in education meant – higher investment, policies and programmes for developing quality teachers, visualizing a curriculum that can match the expectation of the society and extension activities which motivate students to play active role in societal development.

Prof. Ramachandran in his almost two-hour long deliberation detailed the nuances of NEP 2020 and said that the vision of a develop nation cannot be realized unless otherwise we achieve cent-percent literacy for the nation. Referring to Dr. N. Swaminathan's intervention in the field of agriculture to overcome grain shortage in the India, China's effort to eradicate illiteracy.... he said that there are numerous incidents to quote where motivated leadership has achieved impossible targets. The need of the day is to produce youth equipped with multi-dimensional skills and having unflinching problem solving attitude. He said that the NEP 2020 has been conceptualized to transform our educational institutions to match our expectations. The higher education institutions in the country should offer flexible and multi-disciplinary education where students have choices to opt major and minor subjects according to their will and future vision. He said that lifelong learning is a must for enhancing skills and empowerment of each and every citizen of the country. His advice towards our institutions was to adopt the vision propounded through NEP 2020 in its totality. He suggested that Indian Adult Education Association may take a lead and rename itself as the Association for Lifelong Learning.

Prof. Ramachandran addressed and replied a number of questions raised by the delegates. The enthralled audience gave a standing ovation to the veteran teacher widely referred as a Living Encyclopedia of Education.

At the beginning Prof. Ramachandran was introduced by Smt. Kalpana Kaushik, Director, IAEA while the session was presided over by Prof. P.A. Reddy, Treasurer, Indian Adult Education Association, New Delhi.

James Draper Memorial Lecture 2023

The James Draper Memorial Lecture 2023 entitled "Letting No One Behind: The Importance of Five Capitals of Learning in Reflexive Modernity" was delivered by Prof. Séamus Ó Tuama, Director, Adult Continuing Education, University College Cork, Ireland and the Chair of ASEM Lifelong Learning Hub which is an official network for University Cooperation in Lifelong Learning Research between Asia and Europe. Organized by the International Institute of Adult & Lifelong Education, New Delhi on December 4, 2023 at Conference Hall, IAEA, New Delhi this annual academic venture was attended by many eminent academicians and scholars from different universities. The programme was presided over by Prof. N. K. Ambasht, Visitor, International Institute of Adult and Lifelong Education, New Delhi and former Chairman, National Institute of Open Schooling.

The programme was attended by many eminent academicians including Dr. L. Mishra, former DG, NLMA & former Secretary, Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs, GOI; Prof. K. Ramachandran, Advisor, Africa-India Institute of Educational Planning & Administration & Chairman of the Focus Group on Adult Education (NEP, 2020), National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (NIEPA); Prof. Rajesh, Head, Department of ACEE, University of Delhi; Dr. Soren Ehlers, Dr. V. Mohankumar, former Addl. Director, DAE & former Director, IAEA, Dr. A. Mathew, Editorial Consultant, IJAE & former Senior Fellow, NIAE; Dr. Mridula Seth, Vice President, The Richmond Fellowship Society (India) Delhi Branch; Dr. Anita Dighe, Director, Faculty of Distance Education at Himgiri Nabh Vishwavidyalaya, Dehradun, Uttarakhand; Smt. Nishat Farooq, former Director, SRC, JMI; Prof. Anita Priyadarshini, Staff Training and Research Institute of Distance Education, IGNOU and Dr. Geeta Mishra, Associate Professor, Department of ACEE, University of Delhi.

At the very outset Prof. Séamus Ó Tuama was introduced by Smt. Kalpana Kaushik, Director, IAEA. Smt. Kaushik not only highlighted the academic journey of Prof. Tuama but also underlined the major interventions made by him towards the furtherance of adult and lifelong learning in Asian and European countries. Thereafter, Prof. S.Y.Shah, Director, International Institute of Adult and Lifelong Learning and former Professor, Group of Adult Education, School of Social Sciences, JNU, New Delhi detailed in brief the contributions of James A. Draper and some of the memorable chapters of his association with luminaries of adult education in India specially those associated with the Indian Adult Education Association. Prof. Shah also highlighted the profound vision that Draper had for the evolution of adult and lifelong learning in India. He said that James A. Draper was very particular about documenting his visits in India and the core content of his interaction with academicians here. It is definitely a challenging task for the young scholars pursuing research in the field of adult and lifelong learning to read, decipher the message and utilize it properly in their research work.

Prof. Séamus Ó Tuama said that it was truly an honour and a privilege for him to deliver the James Draper Memorial Lecture 2023 in the presence of many of the veterans who had the chance to deliver this lecture before him like Dr. L.D. Mishra, Prof. N. K. Ambasht and Prof. Soren Ehlers. Began with some of the major problems and challenges being faced by the institutions, academicians and practitioners of adult and lifelong learning across the Asian and European countries, Prof. Séamus tried to explain how the concept of Five Capitals of Learning in Reflexive Modernity can be a major intervention for removing the road blocks. Analyzing the natural way of academic development Prof. Séamus said that Seed Capital, Identity Capital, Social Capital, Cultural Capital and Human Capital of Learning in Reflexive Modernity put together systematically help us to understand the growth trajectory of an individual or specific set of population and allow us to intervene properly so that they are enabled to continue their journey. He said that while the Seed Capital represents the baseline of which the learner starts, the Identity Capital reflects upon individual's self-esteem and dignity as a member of a community which plays a vital role in understanding the way an adult need to be assisted with additional help.

A number of participants raised queries specifically Dr. L. Mishra who wanted to know how the concept promoted by Prof. Séamus Ó Tuama can be contextualize to Indian perspective.

The vote of thanks was extended by Prof. N.K. Ambasht who thanked everybody on behalf of IAEA and said that the discussion held on the day would certainly pave the path for a more in-depth deliberation on the topic.
